Message from the Chair

Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the Program Committee, welcome to CSF 2016 in Toronto. This year's program promises more high-end sessions with even more high quality speakers, more hands-on content, and excellent postgraduate courses. In combination with our scholarly and research submissions, the content delivered at CSF 2016 makes it the premiere surgical meeting in Canada.

This year's program features our traditionally strong clinical content and we have brought back popular new sessions such as the Medico-Legal Symposium with the CMPA and the Community Surgery Symposium. We are excited to introduce a symposium on professionalism and to expand our hands-on learning courses in MIS, trauma, ultrasound, and hernia. Our specialty society symposia were designed collaboratively to encourage presentation of topics of interest to surgeons from community-based settings and diverse clinical backgrounds. Check out the CSF 2016 App at www.eventmobi.com/csf2016 and plan out your itinerary.

In addition to being the marquis surgical CME event for Canadian surgeons, the CSF is a great opportunity to meet and catch up with our colleagues from across the country. This year's CSF Soiree will be held at the CN Tower on Friday, September 9, 2016. Be sure to attend and enjoy the finest food and entertainment with new and old friends.

In short, we believe this will be the biggest and best CSF yet.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read 'Shiva', with a stylized flourish extending to the right.

2016 Honorary Members

Canadian Association of General Surgeons

Dr. Bryce Taylor

Dr. Taylor obtained his medical degree from the University of Toronto and completed postgraduate surgical training at the University of Toronto, followed by basic research training at Guys Hospital in London, England. He returned to the Toronto Western Hospital where he developed a practice in general surgery and endoscopy. Shortly thereafter, he moved to the Toronto General Hospital where he developed an interest in hepatobiliary and pancreatic surgery. He and his colleagues spawned a program of hepatobiliary and pancreatic surgery and transplantation with clinical, educational, and clinical research objectives. From 1983 to 1989 he was Director of Postgraduate Education for the University Department of Surgery, from 1989-99 the University Chair of General Surgery, and from 1999-2011, the James Wallace McCutcheon Chair, Surgeon-in-Chief and Director of Surgical Services at the University Health Network, comprising the Toronto General Hospital, Toronto Western Hospital, and Princess Margaret Hospital. He served as Associate Chair of the University of Toronto Department of Surgery 1996-2010.

In 2008 and 2009 in addition to his usual commitments, he devoted significant time and effort to the safe surgery checklist and its adoption throughout Canada as a special advisor to the Canadian Patient Safety Institute. In the summer of 2011, he published a book entitled "Effective Medical Leadership".

In 2011, after more than 11 years as surgeon-in-chief, he was appointed Medical Director of the UHN International Patients Program, and continues to consult on such issues as Information Technology in Surgery and operational aspects of surgical care. In addition, he was a surgical lead on a project to enhance cancer care in the state of Kuwait 2011-2015. Dr. Ed Meads

Dr. Ed Meads was born and raised in Michigan State. He was an outstanding athlete and captain of the Michigan Wolverines Football Team in 1955 before moving to Canada and attending the University of Western Ontario where he obtained his MD and went on to do his residency in General Surgery. He served for two years in the US military and then quickly came back to become a teaching professor at Western where he was decorated with many awards that include his namesake "The G. E. Meads Award for Outstanding Clinical Skill in General Surgery". The Residents he taught have described Dr. Meads as a "wise teacher who is a patient man with a sense of humour" and "undoubtedly one of the most outstanding clinical teachers they had ever met". Dr. Meads worked at St. Joseph's Hospital for 34 years as an active staff member, 10 of those were as Chief of Surgery from 1980 - 1990 before he retired in 2004. He currently resides in London, ON with his wife Barbara and has five children and 12 grandchildren.

Dr. Michael Grace

He was born and raised in London, Ontario and educated at Ridley College in St Catharines and the University of Western Ontario where he obtained an MD in 1964. While at Western he was a member of the swim team and President of the University Student Council. Like his father, the late Dr Archie Grace, he won a Rhodes scholarship to Oxford where he obtained a DPhil in experimental pathology. After general surgery residency at the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal he joined the surgical staff of the new University Hospital in London in 1972 and worked with Dr Angus McLachlin and Dr John Duff. Dr Grace taught at Western, was promoted to Professor of Surgery, and was Program Director of General Surgery for 15 years. He was chairman of the hospital Medical Advisory Committee, President of the London Academy of Medicine, and served on many other local and national committees. After early research on pancreas transplantation he performed the first London pancreas transplant in 1982. He became a pioneer of bariatric surgery performing more than 1500 operations on patients as large as 770 pounds and published extensively in the field. After retirement from hospital practice he was named Emeritus Professor of Surgery at Western and served as an advisor to the Ministry of Health on bariatric surgery. He continues a practice in minor surgery with a special interest in skin cancer. He is married to Dr Linda Hutton and has 2 children and 2 grandchildren. He stays active by walking with his two dogs and playing tennis.
